Explanation for fee increase

Increase in fees for Private Timber Reserve applications.

As of 1 July 2017 the private timber reserve application fee will increase from $535.50 to $542.50 per application.

The fee for a private timber reserve application is payable to Private Forests Tasmania and represents the cost of processing an application to declare land as a private timber reserve.

The fee to accompany an application to declare land as a private timber reserve is set under Forest Practices Regulation 2007. The private timber reserve application fee is 350 fee units.

The value of a fee unit is set annually via the Fee Units Act 1997. The value of a fee unit in for 2017 – 2018 is $1.55.

The increase from $535.50 to $542.50 is an automatic increase, required under the Fee Units Act 1997.

This fee is exclusive of GST.

Other fees payable under the Forest Practices Regulation 2007, 'Application Fee to Certify Forest Practices Plan' and 'Tree Fern Tag', will also increase.

Summary

- Private timber reserve application fee increases from $535.50 to $542.50
